

Dear ABCD Family,

I hope these weekly messages help you feel connected.

It's been about a month since operations have shifted due to the state of emergency and each week new ways to serve are presented.

In the past week, we have seen an increased need for food and supplies. Our teams worked together to answer the call for this need. I want to recognize these successes are due to the dedication and hard work of each and every one of you. The commitment you show to clients and the ABCD mission is what makes the work done here so impactful. We are a team.

In the upcoming weeks, we will be taking on new services, new clients and new ways of doing work. In order to make this a success, we will all need to pitch in to make this happen. You may be asked to assist another department or provide services from your home, and while this is a new challenge, we will figure it out together because that's who we are. We are the people who answer the call for help. We are the people who stand in the need for those who feel they don't have a voice. We are the ones who support each other through all the struggles of today because we are ABCD.

My best,

John J. Drew
